SUBJECT: Board of Supervisors Approval of Less-Than-Three-Acre Conversion Exemption
Applications to be Submitted to the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection

Landowners and timber operators do not need authority from this Department to apply for a less than three-acre conversion exemption with the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection. Specifically, it has been determined that the Board of Supervisors has not delegated authority to this Department and does not require that said application be signed by Lassen County.

Any applicant, property owner or timber operator presenting a less than three-acre conversion exemption application to this Department should be informed of the above.

While this Department does not require approval of a less than three-acre conversion exemption application, any conversion (e.g. harvesting of timber) must nonetheless comply with any applicable zoning and general plan requirements.

County zoning information is available in Title 18 (Zoning) of the Lassen County Code, which can be found at the following URL:
